OUT OF THE PAST – INTO THE FUTURE? DONNA HENRICKS BURNETT

Four tremendous chestnut trees tower over scrub firs and brush near the Middle Fork Road between Forest and Alpha. There were planted by Irwin Balser WEYBRIGHT on his homestead in 1884. For over one hundred years each generation in the area has gathered the nuts to roast in their fireplaces and enjoy the sweet delicacy of the num meats.

Standing beneath those trees on the site of the WEYBRIGHT home and the Sharon Post Office was an inspiration to finish a project begun five years ago when I returned to Chehalis. With most of the research completed, I am writing the family history for the many progeny of our Lewis County pioneers.

Jonathon DAVIS brought his family to settle on his Donation Land Claim on Eden Prairie near Toledo in 1851. He later moved to the Skookumchuck near Tenino, but relatives who settled at the same time, the LAYTONs still live on the adjoining claim.

James Wesley HENRICKS came to Lewis County from Oregon where his family settled in 1845. He married Elizabeth DAVIS and homesteaded south of Chehalis. Then in 1870, they with four other families – the WINSTONS, DOSS, MILLERs and BERRYs, became the first settlers above the Cowlitz gorge on Klickitat Prairie between Mayfield and Mossyrock.

Louis and Nora KLAUS took a homestead one mile toward Forest from her parents, the WEYBRIGHTs, in 1885. They later bought the Ira JOHNSON farm at the corner of Highway 99 and the Onalaska Road. My cousin, Tom KLAUS of Morton became interested in my project and spent hours with maps in the County Courthouse and questioning people he met. It was he that located the chestnut trees and discovered that on state maps the Onalaska corner is named KLAUS Corner, also that the bridge over the Newaukum near the corner is named the Louis J. KLAUS Memorial Bridge.

Almeda, known as Eden KLAUS married Thomas Owen HENRICKS. When he decided to leave farming for contracting the building of roads in 1918, they moved to Chehalis. It was here my brothers and I grew up.

I graduated from Chehalis High School in 1932, then was off for college, first Mills then W.S.U. From then on I was only intermittently in Chehalis. I married Louis S. BURNETT, nephew of Morris BURNETT of Chehalis. Louis was a retail jeweler in Tacoma. I became engrossed in painting, papering, decorating our home and gardening. World War II was a lonely and fearful time with both Louis and my brother Tom in the European theater. They both came home.

Our two children, Bambi born in 1946 and Jim born in 1949, became the center of our lives and the sources of our greatest pride and job. . . . .
